

Cui Bono?

Introduction

There is a continual debate amongst lockdown/Covid sceptics, who all agree that recent social restrictions are wrong, as to the origin and purpose of the fascist measures.

The first group believes that they are due to ministerial incompetence or possibly greed and overreach of power. They do not believe in a global cabal pulling the strings of government puppets or in an overarching strategy of world dominion and especially no depopulation agenda.

The second group believes the reverse. They affirm that there is a global agenda run by a small cabal of super-rich oligarchs who are the real rulers of the world. This cabal dominates most or all nations of the world through control of money supply, finances and commerce centred in Big Pharma, Big Aggro, Big oil, global corporations and central bankers using power to lobby and coerce political decisions. It is these who control Western governments at all levels. Their agenda is world domination after depopulating society according to eugenicist principles.

These two opinions are illustrated in the constant debate between Toby Young (option one) and his friend James Delingpole (option two). Though these debates are friendly, they can become quite heated. Young repeatedly falls back on the cui bono argument. Despite their disagreement, both are ardently opposed to all the restrictive government measures of the last year or so. Sadly, though both are excellent commentators on recent history, Delingpole has not convinced Young with a well-constructed argument.

This debate is important, and I will seek to explain the truth.

Cui bono: the human answer

Cui bono is the Latin phrase meaning, 'For whose benefit is it?'. It is the argument of 'who gains' from a certain strategy so as to identify the originators and their purpose.

One of the prime strategies of the global elite is depopulation of the Earth. Many allege that the Covid vaccination programme makes no sense (it doesn't work¹ but does kill and injure people and will kill many more in future) apart from being an instrument of depopulation. Young's argument is: if the elite are interested in making money and gaining absolute power what point is there in killing most of the world's population? It makes no sense.

The fallacy in Young's argument is that the elite are already super-rich and though they like making money they have other goals that are more important than money. One of these is depopulation – which also aids their goal to rule the world without fear of revolution.

This depopulation strategy is based on their eugenics principles; viz. the Earth is over-populated already and will get worse.² This will cause a demand for essential supplies in the future, such as water,³ and humans must be culled to reasonable levels. This fits in with their eugenic ideas that certain races are weak and undesirable (e.g. Black races and certain other minorities) and they want these exterminated.⁴

A second reason is that they have fixed ideas on how the future world empire will operate and it does not require billions of inhabitants. The elite are technocrats and envisage a world run by robots, computers and AI. This is why the 5G network and the Internet of Things are being rolled out at huge cost.

The fear of the elite is the mass of human population. If millions woke up and understood what is really going on they could rebel and destroy the elite in a matter of days. They are scared. By ridding the Earth of 6.5 billion people they can reduce this threat of revolution and have a security force well able to control those that are left.

The UN's sustainability programme, expressed in Agenda 21 and 2030, and the WEF 'Great Reset', envisages a world of wild open natural spaces (available only to the elite) with human populations corralled in huge urban centres dominated by technology. In fact, they have a programme of transhumanism that synthesises humans and computers in a new chimera of humanity. The 500 million or so humans in cities provide what necessary manufacture is required with robots doing most of the legwork.

With most of humanity exterminated, there is no threat of water shortages, food shortages or lack of resources. There are just enough people to dig up lithium, run power stations, serve utilities and farm land.

So the question of who benefits is simple. The elite benefit in that they fulfil their long-term strategy of depopulation and founding a world empire.

Cui bono: the spiritual answer

Of more importance to Christians, the second part of the answer to the cui bono question originates in the heavenlies. It is the eternal war between Satan and God.

Who is the chief beneficiary of the current globalist strategy? It is Satan, who has been long working towards this very goal of world domination through human proxies.

Satan is not concerned about losing financial opportunities in vaccine programmes; neither is he concerned with the loss of billions of people. In fact, he is a murderer and has been since the killing of Abel.

You are of your father the devil, and the desires of your father you want to do. He was a murderer from the beginning. Jn 8:44

² This is actually a fallacy going back to Malthus. Only about 3% of the Earth is populated (75% is water, of the remaining 25% much is desert, forest, lakes, ice, tundra, mountains etc.) and everyone could fit on Newfoundland island. There are enough natural resources but these are squandered by the rich and wasted.

³ There are vast stores of water underground; more than in the oceans.

⁴ Various vaccination programmes have already sterilised large portions of Black populations in Africa; such as a Bill Gates' sponsored programme in Kenya.

Satan conspired with Cain to kill the godly Abel and throughout history has revelled in the destruction of the crown of God's creation. He lives to despoil all that manifests God and even wants to twist the natural order itself to reflect his dark, corrupt self. He wants to rule over a corrupt world where all social principles are the reverse of God's law. Thus, hate instead of love; injustice instead of justice; totalitarian fascism instead of liberty; destruction of the family; centralised authoritarian government, immorality instead of high moral principles; idolatry instead of godliness; greed instead of charity. It is no accident that these are also the basis of Marxism⁵ and Talmudic Judaism (as applied to Goys).⁶

Satan seeks to have a relatively small group of people (the 1%) that have total power over the world and who are completely submitted to his lordship. It is no accident that the chief characteristic of the global elite is various aspects of Luciferianism. Whether this is expressed in Freemasonry, Hermetism, Rosicrucianism, Theosophy, Talmudic Judaism, Kabbalism, or Occultism, the elite are committed Satanists. The worst are Sabbatean Kabbalists who are utterly committed to intense evil and obliterating good to bring about a false messianic age.

Satan now tempts and influences this smaller group of humanity in preference to his previous tactic of creating emperors that sought world conquest.

In his designs to create a satanic world empire, Satan originally sought to influence one man and drive him to seek to conquer the world. Various attempts at this were made, such as: Assyria under Tiglath-pileser I, Babylonia under Khammu-rabi and later Nebuchadnezzar,⁷ the Medo-Persian Empire under Cyrus and later Darius, the Macedonian Empire under Alexander, the Roman Empire under the Caesars and so on. They all attained a measure of glory but all collapsed because God cut them short. No empire lasted more than a few centuries nor occupied the whole world.

The Devil, frustrated but not giving up, continued to try the idea of world empire by force through one man (e.g. Genghis Khan or Timur-Lenk⁸), through political ideology (e.g. Communism), through religious fervour (e.g. Islam) or through mercantile commercial activism (e.g. the British Empire); but nothing succeeded because God halted them.

In the last days, God allows Satan to gain his objective to bring mankind to full culpability for rebellion against his will in a global kingdom. When man's sin is thus at its peak, just as in the case of the Canaanites,⁹ its fulness requires judgment; and so the end of the world

⁷ The secular academic transliteration of the Biblical Nebuchadnezzar from the Babylonian orthography Nabu-kudur-uzur, which means 'Nebo, protect the crown!' or the 'frontiers'.

⁸ Tamerlane (Christopher Marlowe's 'Tamburlaine the Great', 1588) [1336–1405], Mongol ruler of Samarkand 1369–1405; Tartar name Timur Lenk ('lame Timur'). Leading a force of Mongols and Turks, he conquered Persia, northern India, and Syria and established his capital at Samarkand, an ancient city in eastern Uzbekistan. He was the ancestor of the Mogul dynasty in India.

⁹ God did not fully judge the Canaanites until their sin was complete (Gen 15:16). Then God drove the Canaanites out (Exod 23:23, 30; Deut 7:1). God is patient and allows a period of time for man to repent of his arrives with the appearing of the Lord Jesus Christ in glory. The final world empire, characterised by hedonism, idolatry and wickedness, is the last gasp of human rebellion in submission to Satan.

This is explained in Revelation 20:2-3, 7-9

He laid hold of the dragon, that serpent of old, who is the Devil and Satan, and bound him for a thousand years; and he cast him into the bottomless pit, and shut him up, and set a seal on him, so that he should deceive the nations no more till the thousand years were finished. But after these things he must be released for a little while. ... Now when the thousand years have expired, Satan will be released from his prison and will go out to deceive the nations which are in the four corners of the earth, Gog and Magog, to gather them together to battle, whose number is as the sand of the sea. They went up on the breadth of the earth and surrounded the camp of the saints and the beloved city. And fire came down from God out of heaven and devoured them.¹⁰

Jesus bound Satan during the Gospel Age (1,000 years) stopping him from deceiving nations into trying to establish an idolatrous world empire. At the end God allows Satan to have his way to bring mankind into the fulness of its sin and rebellion to God, ready for final judgment and harvest.

This final mercantile empire, and its satanic origin, is illustrated vividly in Revelation under the symbol of Babylon the Harlot in Rev 17 and 18, and under the leadership of satanic-inspired beast (Antichrist) in Rev 13. The characteristics include:

- Persecution of the church (Rev 11:7, 17:6, 18:24; Matt 24:9).
- Demonic teachings (1 Tim 4:1; Rev 18:2).
- Imperial political power (totalitarianism, Rev 17:12, 18).
- A satanic-inspired false religion (occultism, Rev 18:23).
- Hedonism (Rev 18:3, 7, 9, 14, 16).
- Idolatry (Rev 17:3-4).
- Immorality (Rev 17:2, 18:3).
- Greed (Rev 18:19).
- Selfishness and wickedness in general.

There are two chief expressions of this power:

1. Political authoritarianism; centred in the beast ruling over kings.
2. Religious centralised power; established by the false prophet (or second beast) which mesmerises the population to worship Satan by worshipping the beast. At the end there is a state-run religion which worships Satan.¹¹ sins and return to God. Eventually, that time runs out and judgment follows. This is why human wickedness is not immediately judged temporally. However, sometimes it is (e.g. Herod Agrippa Acts 12:23).

Satan's purpose in this plan is to have a world where Christians are exterminated¹² and all mankind is fully submitted to his power and worships him through proxies (the globalists). Everyone (except the elect remnant) is given over to the fulness of sin in all its forms.

Whether the current Great Reset is the beginning of this final empire remains to be seen. If it is not, it is certainly a prototype for it.

Aside: Canaanites = Phoenicians = the Venetian Nobility

The original enemies of God's people, after the escape from subjugation in Egypt before Israel was a nation, were the various tribes of Canaanites. God drove these out and Israel destroyed many of them, but not all – which was a failure. Canaanites thus typify the persistent, provocative enemies of godliness; fleshly wickedness.

The Greeks called these tribes 'Phoenicians' (Phoinikē) and they were not only wise (Zech 9:2) and rich (Zech 9:3), but as great seafarers they became prosperous through extensive trading (Zech 9:4), travelling as far as Cornwall to trade for tin (to make bronze).

The Canaanites followed the Nimrod¹³ pattern of worshipping the sun god under the name of Baal ('lord', 2 Kg 23:5). But this title was applied to several gods ('baals', Jud 2:11) such as the storm god and the gods of fertility. They established fertility rites, often on hilltops ('high places', Lev 26:30), that involved immorality and self-harm (1 Kg 18:28). Their lust for demonic occultism led to the ritual sacrifice of children to the god Moloch (Molek, Lev 20:3-5; Jer 32:35) and Baal (Jer 19:5), condemned by God as the peak of iniquitous idolatry. This included the slow roasting of babies on a brass statue of a man-bull and burning of children by fire.

It was Canaanites that established the great Mediterranean power of Carthage in 814 BC and the chief leaders eventually went on to form the banking and trading power in Venice. Situated in the centre of the then known world, Venice became the powerhouse for financial power based on trade between the East and the West. Over time, for various reasons, this power (of the Venetian nobility) was transferred, first to Amsterdam and then the City of London (the Square Mile not Metropolitan London), where it now resides as the seat of the global elite financial power. Canaanites and their allies run the banking systems. [Religious power is centred in the Vatican; political power in Washington DC. All three cities are independent, sovereign states with their own authority, taxes and laws.]¹⁴

It is noteworthy that the final expression of God's enemies in the globalist empire includes the very same people that God marked for destruction in the time of Joshua (13th century BC)¹⁵ for their wickedness and rebellion against God that included deep occult idolatry, child sacrifice and gross immorality; the same crimes endemic in the current globalists.

These are prototypes of the end-time empire. The exception is the British Empire, which was based on Christianity; as Victoria openly stated.

¹² He does not succeed in this.

¹³ Nimrod was the first empire builder after the flood (Gen 10:8-12). He was a violent hunter of men ruling over several Sumerian cities including Babel (Babylon) and was the originator of Assyria. Erech = Uruk, home of the earliest civilisation (5th millennium BC) known to archaeologists.

¹⁴ The Queen of England has to seek permission to enter the City and must bow before the Lord Mayor.

¹⁵ The beginning of the Conquest of Canaan may have been about 1405 BC and the death of Joshua around 1390 BC. However, some date the Conquest as 1250 –1200 BC. An argument rages about an early or late Exodus date.

The reality

Having established the logic (or lack of it) in the elite plan for depopulation, we know the truth of this goal because they have openly stated it for decades. They have declared it openly over and over again in plain sight. I am not going to list all the depopulation quotes from elite people (such as Prince Philip or Henry Kissinger) because I have done so many times before.¹⁶ When you consider that the elite view ordinary people as ‘cattle’ and ‘dogs’ (many sources) or ‘useless eaters’ (viz. Kissinger) you can understand their psychopathy and how easy it is for them to seek depopulation.

The elite seek to destroy 6.5 billion people. That is just a plain, observable fact. It is written on granite monoliths in Georgia, USA, in several languages. What could be more plain?

The Covid vaccination programme is one means of achieving this. I won't go over all the reasons why here, see my previous papers (especially, ‘Do not take the Covid vaccine’ or ‘The Covid technical papers’). However, the evidence is already available that many thousands have died and many hundreds of thousands have been seriously injured. That is a present fact.¹⁷ Yet the plan is for millions to die in the next flu season through viral interference when vaccinated people hit a wild coronavirus and develop a cytokine storm. This will happen for years to come. Such a strategy is truly evil.¹⁸

Conclusion

The answer to the question of cui bono is to see the strategy from the perspective of 1) the globalist elite and 2) Satan. You cannot understand this from a rational, logical, human perspective. This is because the global elite are not just Satanists, they are psychopaths and sociopaths. They are utterly insane, depraved by their commitment to demonic ideas and worship of evil.

Depopulating the Earth and eradicating the dead wood is the success of a long-term plan, desired since the days of Thomas Malthus and Francis Galton. It is actually a very stupid idea since the elite will not be able to control who dies in a vaccination death plan and could end up with no services. It's no good being super rich if the sewers don't work. But this just shows how insane these people really are. Demonised people cannot think straight.

Cui bono? The psychopathic global elite.

¹⁶ E.g. see my paper, ‘Do not take the Covid vaccine’. See the target population on the Georgia Guidestones.

¹⁷ See the various reporting systems such as VAERS (USA) or the Yellow Card (UK). Add to this the fact that studies prove that only 1-% of people report adverse vaccine reactions. On this basis already 1,550,000 have died in Europe alone after six months. Furthermore, the vast majority of people sick with Covid currently are vaccinated people.

¹⁸ The SARS-Cov-2 spike protein typically attacks just the upper respiratory system to kill. However, the spike protein produced by the mRNA vaccines go to every cell in the body, and when activated kill everything. The vaccine is worse than the virus.
