

The Chaos Strategy

Introduction

The Global Elite like to work out their goals through the Hegelian Dialectic.¹ This is often summarised as thesis – antithesis – synthesis, but is better understood as problem – reaction – solution. In order to create change in society you first create a problem to which there is a reaction and this is followed by a solution (in their case a prepared resolution). So to create change you must first create chaos. The sort of problems used by the elite include: war, economic recession or collapse, famine, sanctions, epidemics and fears (e.g. terrorism, climate change).

The Elite is currently drawing a number of problems together to develop complete chaos to usher in a new generation of society called variously, the Fourth Industrial Revolution, the Great Reset, Building Back Better or the New World Order.

This massive change in developing a new world order requires equally massive chaos and multiple crises in order to enable the seismic changes the Elite considers necessary in society (global governance). I will briefly examine some of these crises going on today which together will create the worst chaos the world has ever seen. For example: 1) Problem: engineer collapse of the food chain supply. 2) Reaction: the result is food riots, deaths and social upheaval. 3) Solution: global governance. Or, 1) Problem: engineer an energy crisis. 2) Reaction: deaths, social upheaval and economic collapse. 3) Solution: global governance. The end goal is always a totalitarian world state.

War

And you will hear of wars and rumours of wars. See that you are not troubled; for all these things must come to pass, but the end is not yet. Matt 24:6

For nation shall rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom. Matt 24:7

The expansion of the Ukraine Conflict

The Russian intervention would be long over if it were not for the deliberate policy of NATO to continue the fighting until the last dead Ukrainian soldier. This won't be long as Zelensky has admitted that 100 soldiers are dying every single day with up to 500 being wounded. In comparison, at the height of the Vietnam War America was losing 50 soldiers per day (which contributed to ending the war). Furthermore, whole military units are surrendering. He also admitted that Russia now controls 20% of the Ukraine. This means that Russia gained control of territory roughly the size of England in 100 days, which is a remarkable military achievement. With the Donbass gone, Ukraine is finished and relegated to a third rate country (many of its prime resources are in the east). Zelensky is also facing rebellion, national bankruptcy and calls for him to be tried for treason.

Putin offered peace talks continually after the first few days and only wanted to secure the independence of Crimea, the DPR and the LPR. Even Kissinger stated that Ukraine should stop the war and cede this territory to the autonomous states (not Russia). Instead the West has constantly fed money, arms and munitions (as well as troops and mercenaries) into the military zone to keep the war going. This is officially not to help Ukraine but to bleed Russia out and ruin it. [In fact most of these weapons are destroyed by Russia immediately, while some go to the black market and are appearing in Syria. Javelins are being sold for $15,000 by Ukrainian soldiers.] The Ukraine cannot win and western weapons are rarely reaching the frontline, where they face maintenance problems and lack of trained operators.

This is not 'a boots on the ground' war or a tank confrontation, it is an artillery, rocket and missile conflict and Russia has vast stores of these. Former British military personnel who are veterans of the Iraq and Afghanistan wars, acting as mercenaries in Ukraine, have returned home terrified saying they have never seen anything like this – constant munitions bombardment. This tactic is to minimise Russian troop casualties but the effect is to decimate Ukrainian military. [Note that all this is contrary to the lies promulgated by the BBC.]

Currently Russia is being further threatened by proposed new NATO military bases in Poland right next to the Russian border. Russia is responding by creating 12 new military base stations on its border.² This was after NATO staged exercises (called Defence of Europe) deploying 40,000 military personnel from 30 countries near Russia's borders. This significantly raised tensions. America had also taken ships to the Baltic Sea with guided missiles on many occasions, often visiting cruise missile sites off the coast of Kaliningrad.

Each day as NATO escalates its involvement in Ukraine the threat of war between Russia and the West increases. This is insane since Russia has far superior weaponry and can take out entire regions with unstoppable hypersonic ICBMs.

Despite warnings, NATO is increasing its military support to Ukraine, including longer range missiles that could strike Russia. Putin has now responded to this saying that if the sending of missiles continues, Russia will be forced to strike areas outside Ukraine in NATO countries that are supplying weapons. With its missile capabilities, that includes Sarmat and Zircon systems, this means that Russia could strike Britain and the US as key suppliers of weapons to Ukraine. Weapons suppliers are a legitimate military target. The West is already at war with Russia by proxy; this would escalate this war into World War III and it would be entirely the fault of stupid western politicians. [Aside: Alexa (the computer access) states that WWIII begins in November 2023 when Russia hits Germany with missiles.] Russia has already responded by striking areas it had formerly avoided to avert loss of life, such as the centre of Kiev.

NATO policy in Ukraine is creating a powder keg.

Potential war against Finland

Far from assisting its defence capabilities against a non-existent threat, Finland has painted a target on itself. It has vastly increased the likelihood of war with Russia by seeking entry into NATO. Indeed some military analysts (such as Scott Ritter) believe that Russia will be forced to attack Finland to prevent a threat on its borders.

Potential war against Iran

Israel has been rehearsing airstrikes on Iran for several weeks and is preparing for war. It is now highly likely that air strikes on Iranian military bases will be forthcoming. Iran has been an ally of Russia in Syria.

Potential war against Taiwan

China is currently changing its economic status into a war footing. In short it is preparing for war. It has constantly threatened to take Taiwan by force and has built up naval stations in the South China Sea. While America is side-tracked in Ukraine and its weapons supply depleted by gifts to Zelensky, now would be the ideal time for China to invade Taiwan.

Unbelievably, Joe Biden has openly stated that if China attacks Taiwan America will intervene militarily. That would also precipitate WWII. If America attacked Chinese forces in Taiwan it is possible that Russia would form a military alliance with China.

Chinese attack on America

I am not saying that this is likely in the near future but many commentators (e.g. Mike Adams)³ have expressly stated that they have military intelligence that there is a forthcoming plan for China to invade America's West Coast. This would use a combination of boots on the ground, orbital space weapons, missile strikes, tactical nuclear missiles, on key infrastructure, EMP attacks, cyber attacks and other things. The invasion forces would supposedly cross the Pacific hidden in cargo ships.

Apparently China has been stockpiling food, munitions, microchips and key items and has been planning this for many years. It is also planning economic war by dumping the dollar and all dollar debt, which would trigger the collapse of the dollar.

Conclusion

There is currently a combination of actual wars (Tigray War in Ethiopia, Saudi Arabia vs Yemen / Russia vs Ukraine), proxy wars (NATO vs Russia via Ukraine / NATO vs Syria via Islamic and Armenian insurrection and Israeli missile strikes) and rumours of future wars all at the same time.

World War is now a distinct possibility if NATO pushes Russia too far in the Ukraine conflict. All this military aggression and posturing is building up world chaos.

Economic collapse

And I heard a voice in the midst of the four living creatures saying, 'A quart of wheat for a denarius, and three quarts of barley for a denarius'. Rev 6:6 [In today's measure, less than a quart for the price of a day's wages. If today's average salary is £18k pa. this means a packet of flour would cost £49.]

This crisis is well underway and the fall out is unstoppable. It is entirely due to the deliberate policies of politicians. We have recently had the unprecedented statements of the governor of the Bank of England saying that food prices are going to be 'apocalyptic'. He added that he felt helpless in the face of a shocking rise in inflation – which was primarily caused by the bank's decision to print masses of money in quantitative easing. Additionally, net zero Green policies by Western governments are pushing up the prices of energy – which inflates everything. Recent studies have also proved that the lockdowns greatly contributed to inflation as money was printed to cover lockdown costs (e.g. furlough schemes, help to businesses). Britain spent £400 billion on the Covid crisis.

In some countries the problem is already leading to social collapse. Sri Lanka has had food riots, social upheaval and poor people attacking rich people, throwing cars into rivers. There have been food riots in Iran, Pakistan and Argentina. This is all due to high inflation and some other factors.⁴

UK inflation is now directly headed into stagflation territory (inflation plus stagnation of growth). Food prices will continue to skyrocket and petrol will have to be rationed eventually; a litre has already hit £2. Power blackouts next winter (or earlier) are more and more likely. Already poor people are having to choose whether to heat or eat; next winter will be a disaster as more energy price increases occur after October. Even the head of EON stated that energy prices were too expensive. The Federation of Small Businesses has just stated that 500,000 small businesses are about to go bust. This is just a part of the massive unemployment coming, which is part of stagflation.

Due to a lack of preparation for a rainy day, Britain is ill-prepared for an energy crisis or a food crisis. In fact it has exacerbated the problems by its net zero Green policies and its policies against farmers.⁵

Oil is not limited by how much is pumped but how much is refined. This is finite. Processing oil into petrol, diesel and jet fuel relies upon a fixed number of processing plants in the world; most are in China. One of the biggest, the Freeport, Texas refinery which produces 20% of America's LNG / gas and which exports to Britain, has just exploded.⁶ What a coincidence just when the Elite are engineering an energy crisis! Even before this the lockdowns had resulted in a decline in processing and added to the causes of rising petrol prices.

The fiat-money, Ponzi-scheme, banking system is also coming to the edge of collapse. This creates debt that mounts up and eventually cannot be repaid. The option of printing more money, which got us through the 2008 crash, is no longer an option since too much has already been printed and interest rates have to go up a great deal more. More money printing will only worsen inflation, which is already out of control. Interest rates will go up into double figure within months. Yet more quantitative easing is commencing.

The collapse of the Petro-Dollar is already underway and the rouble will further strengthen as nations try to get cheap oil/gas from Russia. Italy has already rejected the EU sanctions policy and is paying Russia for energy in roubles, as is Serbia. When Finland refused to pay in roubles, Gazprom cut off its supply forcing Finland to buy much more expensive energy from Scandinavia. Its economy will now suffer. Since then supplies have been cut off from The Netherlands and Denmark. Meanwhile Russia has not only made up the shortfall in exports it has actually increased its energy exports via its partners in India, China and ⁴ In the case of Sri Lanka this included terminating chemical fertiliser use and demanding organic farming, which led to crop failures.

⁵ Rewilding, causing a loss of a million tons of wheat. Paying farmers to stop farming.

⁶ ABC 13, 'Incident at Freeport LNG oil and gas company under control, official say', 8 June 2022.

South East Asia. The sanctions have improved Russia's energy exports but is driving up inflation in Europe.

The housing bubble is about to burst and house prices will crash within the next year or so. US treasury bonds are beginning to lose favour and a sell-off, such as by China, would crash the American economy overnight. America is in trouble because it does not manufacture anything anymore; most things are made in China. When the service economy is under threat, the US cannot fall back on real things. Its gold reserves are gone and it has nothing to sell. Its national debt is in the tens of trillions; much key infrastructure is owned by China. Its international power is also weak; it is unprecedented that a Saudi crown prince could refuse a call from the US president. Even cryptocurrencies are collapsing and fortunes are being lost.

The likelihood of bank collapses are raising their head again and bail-ins are possible. There are fears that banks will steal saver's money – it has happened before. The shocking fractional reserve loan system⁷ means that it is impossible for banks to pay back the money that people have entrusted to them if they all come at once.

In any event, the long predicted global economic collapse is underway and full collapse of the system very close now. How this pans out will depend on various factors – but it is not good. The resulting chaos will be extreme.

You'd better brace yourself ...JP Morgan is bracing ourselves ... I said there's storm clouds but I'm going to change it ... it's a hurricane.

Jamie Dimon, CEO JP Morgan bank.

This is among – if not the most – complex, dynamic environments I've ever seen in my career. The confluence of the number of shocks to the system to me is unprecedented.

Famine

There shall be famines. Matt 24:7

Collapse of food supply chains

As well as the shortages of wheat caused by the Ukraine conflict the real problem has been the deliberate collapse of the supply chains by various measures and the knock-on effect of lockdowns also causing collapse of supply chains.⁸ We could add the insane measures of zero-Covid in China leading to the backlog of cargo ships that cannot get into port and the mining of the Black Sea ports by Ukraine, stopping wheat exports (it is not Russia).⁹

⁷ People think that if you save a pound in the bank, the bank can loan that pound and gain interest (for you and the bank). In fact the bank will loan 10, 20 or 100 times that one pound. This is fine until people cannot pay their loans back.

The Independent, 'This is how coronavirus is affecting our already fragile food system', 24 April 2020. London Loves Business, 'UK food supply chains on the brink of collapse', 7 June 2020.

⁹ Russia said that it would allow wheat exports through if Ukraine removed the mines and the sunk ships blocking harbours. Ukraine refused; but the West blames Russia.

The supply chain collapse in America includes the termination of freight trains transporting food and the burning down of over 20 key food distribution centres by supposed accidental fires within a few weeks.¹⁰ In two cases it is claimed that aeroplanes crashed into the buildings! This is an engineered breakdown of food supplies; just like the engineered breakdown of baby formula where supplies were sent to the border and elsewhere people were deprived. This was at a time when the Covid vaccines had stopped mother's lactating, thus requiring formula. America had to get emergency aid flown in from Europe. The supposed greatest nation on Earth couldn't feed its own babies.

In addition there has been the culling of millions of chickens. For example, a single chicken tests PCR-test positive for Covid and the whole flock is killed; thousands of birds. There have also been unprecedented 'accidental' fires in chicken farms. This is not just a loss of meat but also of eggs that are vital for multiple other food stocks (e.g. bakery, pasta).¹¹

All in all, millions of tons of food has just disappeared in smoke.

In addition, India is moving towards halting or restricting rice exports, which alone will lead to mass starvation in the developing world. It has already restricted wheat and sugar exports. This is in order to protect its own people from starvation.

We should also mention the insane sanctions against Russia, which are backfiring to cause havoc in the West. As well as skyrocketing energy prices and threatened rationing of power supplies, Western supermarkets are already experiencing empty shelves for certain products. Meanwhile the supermarkets in St Petersburg are fully stocked and Russian petrol is 35p a litre.

Due to inflation caused by excessive money printing and a squeeze on energy, food prices are going through the roof already. This is before severe shortages have really hit the West (wholesalers still have stocks). Even though some food items have risen 500% in recent weeks, when the food crisis bites hard inflation will rise even higher. Again the poorest in society will be hit the hardest.

Effects

As the global famine begins to hit hard, it will be the developing world that will suffer most. There is the possibility that millions of poor people will die (is that the plan?). For example, there is only 9 weeks supply of wheat left in the world but nations like Egypt rely upon wheat as the staple diet. Millions will die from a lack of wheat alone.

As time passes, however, even the developed Western nations will face unprecedented food crises. The foolish reliance for many years on the 'just in time' protocol means that there are no long-term reserves of food stocks. As the supply chain, and the supply itself, breaks down, UK supermarkets will start to run out of food, probably beginning with wheat products (pasta, biscuits, cakes, breakfast cereals, bread etc.). This situation will not be resolved quickly since the growing season requires a year. Even if the UK government changed its farming policies now, it's already too late to grow wheat to compensate for what is already lost. We are likely to face a year or more of reduced and very expensive supplies. France and Germany are already talking about rationing.

Factors

- The rising cost and growing scarcity of diesel fuel. Diesel not only powers the trucks that take food from farms to supermarkets, but it is also the energy source that drives most of the vehicles used in farming, such as combine harvesters. Farmers are struggling to get sufficient diesel. Some farms have given up planting crops because of the prohibitive cost of diesel.
- Shortage of fertilisers. This is partly caused by the Ukraine conflict but prices were already rising. Many farmers have stopped growing crops because the costs of fertilisers reduce their profits to zero.
- The Covid crisis caused a collapse in certain industries: e.g fruit and veg pickers were not available and crops rotted in the fields.
- Lockdowns: these effectively closed many industries and stopped food production in certain areas.
- Food transportation collapses. Such as the freight trains in America or the stuck cargo ships in China.
- Net zero Carbon policies cause a loss of farmland and running down meat production.
- Burning down of multiple food processing plants. There have been too many of these too quick to be accidental. This is programmed destruction.
- Culling of millions of chickens.
- Inability to get wheat out of Ukraine. This halted 30% of wheat exports.
- Stupid policies: e.g. termination of chemical fertilisers in Sri Lanka; UK paying farmers to stop farming; UK paying farmers to stop food production and plant wild flowers.

Food riots

Food riots are already occurring right now in Sri Lanka, Argentina, Iran and Pakistan. Expect such things to begin to spread across the world as the food crisis begins to hit home. Currently the mainstream media is ignoring this but when the public gets wind of it, supermarket shelves will be emptied in a matter of hours. Stockpile now.

Those that find that they have no food will turn violent; this has repeatedly happened in history. It is a recurring phenomenon. Worse still today is that most young people have no clue how to perform basic cooking and make meals out of very little. They live on packaged food, ready meals and takeaways. When these dry up they will not be able to make meals out of what basic items or scraps are available.

This was avoidable

The factors involved in the supply chain collapse are all based on decisions by politicians. This means that the famine is a deliberate policy of the ruling elite; it has engineered this food breakdown. Why? Because it wants to reduce the world population. With different decisions there would be no impending famine. For example:

- Stop the rewilding programme and get the UK to grow wheat again. A million tons of wheat has been lost so far.
- Stop encouraging farmers to give up farming by offering them £100,000 to do so. Instead subsidise them to grow vital crops.
- Stop paying farmers to grow rape¹² and instead grow wheat.
- Put pressure on Ukraine to accede to peace talks that Putin has offered for weeks instead of pressuring Zelensky to continue the fight and sending arms to Ukraine.
- Start stockpiling food resources in centres around the country.
- Abandon the just-in-time protocol and develop better strategies.
- Stop killing chickens because of Covid.
- Develop a sustainable fertiliser production facility.
- Adopt sensible economic policies; stop printing money and raise interest rates.
- Make peace with Russia, stop the sanctions (which are stupid) and get oil/gas rolling again.
- Stop net zero carbon policies and start building new nuclear/coal-powered power stations; re-commission those that have not yet been destroyed. Provide cheap energy.
- Never lockdown society ever again.

But these sensible policies will not be adopted because the ruling powers are psychopaths intent on destroying society.

Controlled epidemics

And there will be ... pestilences. Matt 24:7

The WHO is currently planning for ten years of pandemics! Bill Gates has predicted another pandemic next year! There are fears being stoked up about Monkeypox (which are unnecessary). There are warnings about Ebola and Marburg viruses. There are fears being generated about a new Covid variant. Some US states are reintroducing lockdowns and facemasks.

Deadly epidemics ramp up the fear factor very quickly and a nation under fear is easily controlled. We saw how fear enabled irrational, ineffective policies to be legalised during the Covid hoax. People willingly did utterly stupid things without question; like wearing a facemask going into a pub or restaurant, taking it off when seated at a table, then putting it back on again to leave. Why didn't most people question why that would stop an airborne virus? Another was the one-way system in venues. How would that accomplish the defeat of a virus that remains in the air for some time? Don't even get me started on Perspex visors. All this was fear theatre. It meant nothing, achieved nothing but stoked up fear and thus compliance.

Well the controlling powers want to keep this measure of control going for years to have a docile population that they can dominate. Thus new epidemics need to be manufactured every year until they achieve global domination and the Great Reset, planned for 2030.

¹² Rape-seed oil is toxic and should not be used.

At the same time health services are collapsing. The NHS has been all but destroyed by the Covid crisis. GPs in many areas are still not seeing patients face to face. Ambulances are queuing outside hospitals for up to 20 hours; in one case 30 hours. Ambulance stations are being sold off. West Midlands ambulance service has said that there will be no emergency call outs after August. The NHS Long Term Plan calls for an end to ambulance services and treating people at home; for consultations via pharmacies; for consultations by zoom calls; and the eradication of GPs altogether.

At a time when health services were needed more than ever (vaccine side effects are causing mass adverse reactions and deaths);¹³ the health service is on its back.

The epidemic fear agenda helps to create more chaos in society.

Infertility

No birth, no pregnancy, and no conception! Hos 9:11

This is a serious international problem that the mainstream media is mostly ignoring. Fertility rates almost everywhere are collapsing. In many Western nations the birth rate is below the sustainable population rate. The world wide birth rate has dropped 60%. In Japan the situation is so severe that the Japanese race will potentially disappear within a few decades. If the rate increases it puts the very future of mankind at risk of population collapse. Already nations have a bigger elderly population than young people, which will cause pressure on tax returns and sustainability of welfare services.

The question is, 'What is causing this?'

Vaccines

We can say with certainty that part of the problem is vaccines.

The global elite have planned for a long time to fulfil its eugenic hopes by sterilising millions of people through vaccine programmes. This has been going on for many years. One of the provable cases is the Bill Gates vaccine programme in Kenya where hundreds of thousands of women and children were made infertile through tetanus and polio shots. This has been scientifically substantiated and I have reported on this before.

Another Bill Gates initiative in India has also caused sterilisation (and deaths) through vaccine programmes. In fact there is a prosecution case in the Indian High Court to charge Gates with murder.

The WHO, going back to the 1970s, developed a vaccine to cause sterility in order to reduce the population explosion in Third World countries. This vaccine was a hybrid of the tetanus toxoid and a molecule called beta ACG – which aids foetal development. The process was to get the immune system to attack ACG and reduce fertility. The WHO then deceived poor people in Africa and India to have a tetanus jab, which rendered them infertile. This was discovered by the Catholic Church, which was a big health care provider in Kenya. After exposing this, the WHO went on the attack against the Catholic Church in Africa.

Dr Andrew Wakefield has produced a new film about this issue that moves forward from his film Vaccines. He shows damning evidence that there is a clear sterilisation programme being worked through Big Pharma, Gates, GAVI, the WHO and others. He explains the microbiology of this, which is complex. The primal cause in the vaccines is understood.¹⁴

Birth control pills

Millions of these are consumed everyday in the West and these pass into the sewage system. Sewage water is then processed and poorly filtered in sewage stations before it passes into the drinking water supply, whereupon the chemicals are then consumed by domestic users.

Soy products

Fermented soy products are good for you but unfermented soy products are not.

It is known that soy has an effect on male fertility. Soy products are related with lower Testosterone, Estrogen and Estradiol and lower sperm count.¹⁵

Green activism is driving gullible men to drink soymilk instead of dairy from cows.

EMF radiation

Damage to sperm counts are a known effect of EMF radiation. This is effected in men through having mobile phones in pockets, using Ipads resting on the groin or just the general level of radiation through Broadband and WiFi systems in domestic dwellings.

That sperm counts have dramatically fallen in men is a known and measurable phenomena; it is a fact. The causes, however, are debated.

Chemtrails (stratospheric aerosol injection)

Everyone is breathing in toxic chemicals that are sprayed in the air by aircraft. This is no theory, it is a demonstrable fact and well documented, even by released papers from the US Congress. Stratospheric spraying has been going on since the 1930s, initially to seed rain clouds through silver oxide, but today a host of toxins, such as aluminium oxide are being pumped out.

The chemical residue is being measured all over the planet and even being found in rock pools atop high mountain ranges.

There are multiple purposes in the strategy of chemtrails (dumbing down populations, weather modification) but one effect is sterilisation.

There are probably other causes but these are sufficient to show how great the problem is. The threat to mankind is serious. While Woke idiots protest and clamour about the non-existent CO2 problem, the world is slowly dying through reduced populations.

Note that the infertility is not driven by natural causes but by human choices.

¹⁴ See Brand New Tube, Clive de Carle, 'Infertility: Dr Andrew Wakefield explains WHOdunnit', Interview with Andrew Wakefield. This summarises what is exposed in the forthcoming film. The film is available at Infertility.org

Green issues and energy

And the LORD smelled a soothing aroma. Then the LORD said in His heart, 'I will never again curse the ground for man's sake, although the imagination of man's heart is evil from his youth; nor will I again destroy every living thing as I have done. While the earth remains, seedtime and harvest, cold and heat, winter and summer, and day and night shall not cease'. Gen 8:21-22

Green policies (sustainable energy projects etc.) are just another means to stoke up fear in the population ('the world is burning', 'we have only got months to fix it'). It also provides opportunities for the Elite to make huge amounts of money from the various Green schemes (sustainable energy schemes, carbon-offsetting etc.). It is a hoax based on a pack on provable lies designed, by bankers, to enable totalitarian control over society.

Hardly anyone questions what are utterly unsustainable, stupid policies. Net zero is ridiculous and pointless. In fact, getting more CO₂ is beneficial to life on Earth and saves lives. Electric cars create more CO₂ overall, wreck the environment and don't work (see my other papers on this). With energy prices rising and supplies diminishing petrol cars are necessary. In any case you can never make an efficient electric HGV truck.

We need more efficient coal-powered power stations that would provide cheap energy from plentiful sources in Britain; this would also rejuvenate degenerated townships. New filter systems can make these industrially clean. Instead we are building wind turbines that are grossly inefficient and don't work most of the time. Solar panel farms are pointless in this country and are also inefficient and bad for the environment, as I have explained elsewhere. There is no climate crisis; it is all manufactured by false data and poor science from paid operatives.¹⁶

Joe Biden has already warned America to expect rolling blackouts, even in the summer, across the country as the energy supply system is facing complete collapse. Britain has been warned to expect power cuts by next winter. People die in power cuts. The causes of this are:

- Droughts causing failure of hydroelectric power.
- Switch to Green sustainable power systems (wind, solar) is insufficient to meet demand. Frost in winter reduces efficiency of turbines and stops solar from working – the result is power cuts, as happened in Texas last year.
- Supplies of necessary microchips drying up. Systems fail.
- Destruction of and decommissioning of coal and nuclear power stations.
- Cuts in gas from Russia.
- Increased demand on the grid (e.g. illegal immigration, electric cars).
- Infrastructure collapsing and not being maintained. This was worsened by the lockdowns.
- Inflation.

¹⁶ Polar bears are thriving. The ice caps are not significantly melting. There are fewer hurricanes than normal. Global temperatures are falling. And so on.

The Green agenda adds to the chaos and creates more fear. But Green policies actually kill people.¹⁷

I will also remind you that the net zero Green agenda means that by 2030 the following goals are to be achieved:

- Red meat will cease to be available. For protein you will be required to eat insects. This is already being trialled now at certain schools.
- All petrol/diesel cars will be eradicated. Only massively expensive useless electric vehicles will be allowed.
- Gas central heating systems will be eradicated. You will need hugely expensive, inefficient heat pumps instead.
- Cows and sheep will be few and far between; because they contribute to greenhouse gases. Dairy products will be very scarce and only for the rich.
- Money will be eradicated. You will have state-controlled cashless systems that will only allow you ability to purchase based on social credit scores.
- Most airports will be eradicated. Flying holidays will not exist (for the poor).

Welcome to the future Green world.

Social division

If a kingdom is divided against itself, that kingdom cannot stand. Mk 3:24

I have explained this many times. In summary, the elite have been working tirelessly for decades to sow division in society. This is done through agendas that claim to be benevolent, based on increasing toleration for this or that marginal group, but in fact the agenda creates hate, violence, persecution and factionalism.

Thus we have had Feminism, Gay rights, abortion laws, Wokeness, Transgenderism, Intersectionalism, Muslim mass immigration, BLM, Antifa, Extinction Rebellion, Insulate Britain, Critical Race Theory, all of which have led to de-platforming, cancel culture, hate speech, social division, persecution of free speakers, demonisation of individuals, and so on. In severe cases, it has led to riots, burning, murders, assaults, destruction of property etc.

Tribes have formed around certain issues and these tribes are cajoled to confront each other resulting in social division. In some cases what was formerly supported by the Elite (e.g. Feminism) is later sacrificed to another agenda (e.g. Transgenderism). Feminists once supported by the media are now vilified when they champion the rights of biological women against predatory men pretending to be women.

In most cases the new marginal factions, supported by Elite money, focus their anger on White people, men, Christians, the shires, and the working class. The biggest enemy today is a White Christian male living a privileged middle class life gained through hard work. Actor Christopher Eccleston (former Dr Who) recently complained that the diversity agenda has caused him to be unable to find work because he is a White, middle aged, middle class person..

¹⁷ For example, the cuts to power and increasing costs of energy mean that poor people die from the cold. Far more people die from cold than from heat.

It also leads to anomalies. Today Calvin Robinson, a Black Christian commentator, has been rejected by the Woke Church of England for consideration for ordination as a vicar (actually the initial role of a deacon). His sin? He denied that Britain was institutionally racist. So Woke White Anglican leaders castigated a Black man for not focusing on racism.

This is typical of a factionalised Woke society that punishes people with the wrong political views by cancelling them or firing them. People are losing their jobs for using the wrong pronouns, mild critical speech, writing a critical Tweet or expressing the wrong views in an interview. The imposed Elite factionalism has succeeded in destroying the bonds of society and creating victims of GroupThink.

The Woke activism is actively proclaimed by the mainstream media, NGOs, educators and such like, so that a completely skewed vision of Britain is painted to the world. In reality the average Brit is still a traditional White 'Christian' that is extremely tolerant towards minorities. Minority groups that get all the press attention are actually a tiny fragment of society.

Social group ¹⁸	Perceived percentage	Actual percentage
Transgender	5%	0.3-0.7%
Bisexual	10%	1.3%
Gay/Lesbian	15%	1.8%
Black	20%	3%
Muslim	15%	4%
Asian	17%	7%
Jewish	10%	0.5%
Vegan/Vegetarian	20%	4%

Just consider the masses of media attention that the Transgender issue is getting yet such people only constitute as little as 0.3% of the population. Despite this, social policies are changing society, such as changing toilet designations, allowing Transgender women (i.e. men) into women-only spaces, putting Transgender 'women' into female prisons etc.

Despite the reality, the Elite keep pushing the minorities and the factionalism to provoke societal schism.

This adds to the chaos.

Moral confusion

The various Postmodern, licentious programmes that have been thrust upon society - all of which are contrary to thousands of years of traditional morality - have led the public into total confusion. This confusion adds to social breakdown.

For example, ordinary people making up 99.9+% of the British population are very confused by the huge amount of profile given to the issue of Transgenderism. It makes no sense to them and it confuses them. However, the full sanction of the law will be applied to this majority for as little as calling a man 'sir' when he identifies as a woman.

Then we have the pronoun issue. The police have been trained to identify 40 different gender types, even though there are now hundreds being used. Healthline describes 68 types. Sensible people are expected to be able to describe people by their chosen pronoun and again sanctions are applied to people who don't. How many of my readers are fluent in the 40 gender types used by the police forces and how do you identify such? Do you know what is meant by: eir, vis, xyrs, em, tem, zim, sie? Do you know the difference between: Apogender, Amab, Aliagender, Boi, Cisgender, Cishet, Dyadic and scores more.

Then there is the anachronistic displacement being deliberately used in dramas whereby historical White persons are played by Black people and it is demanded that this is accepted on pain of being called a racist. The classic example is Anne Boleyn, being played by a Black woman. When people complain about this reversal of facts there are howls by Progressive activists claiming discrimination and hate; it is nothing of the sort. It is an offence to common sense and historical fact. The same people demanding that Black people can play historical White personas would scream blue murder if there were a film biography of Nelson Mandela played by a White person. Utter hypocrisy.

Then there is the issue of digitisation of public services. This discriminates against people, particularly older people, who do not have a Smartphone or a computer. Most access to health and public services is now by booking online (which often doesn't work). Alternative telephone contact points also often do not function. Thus appointments for GPs (if any are available), hospital clinics, hospital phlebotomy, refuse tips and so on must now be done online. Even mail order clothing stores have shut down their catalogues by post and demand ordering online. All this discriminates against, mostly old, people that do not have digital devices.

In addition there is the cashless society that the public never agreed to and Parliament never debated. Some shops now refuse payment by sterling legal tender and requests for the government to intervene have been ignored. Yet I know people that do not own a credit card or a Smartphone. How are they supposed to pay? Some stores have even said that if you try to pay with cash for the exact amount and take an item they will call the police.

The amount of media attention given to such confusing issues makes everything worse. Huge amounts of press space and airtime is given to these issues being pushed by the global Elite through compliant governments. It makes ordinary people feel out of touch with their own country; they cannot identify with such things. You can guarantee that these subjects are not being discussed with favour by the locals of rural pubs in the countryside of Yorkshire or Lancashire. Which is one reason why pubs are being pushed into collapse and shutting down. The Elite does not want a congregation of sensible people talking to each other and affirming traditional values. Five pubs close every week.

All of this nonsense creates confusion in sane people who no longer recognise their own country.

Unelected hegemony

There is no doubt that the global Elite seeks to bring chaos to the world; they have openly said so. They want restrictions of oil and gas; they want restrictions of wheat; they want to get rid of livestock; they want to get rid of internal combustion engine cars; they want to get rid of cheap central heating; they want war with Russia; and so on.

These people are unelected, many are bankers and all are in the top 0.1% of the richest people on Earth. They discuss their evil plans in forums like the Bilderberger Group which meets secretly;¹⁹ the UN; the Chatham House think tank; the World Economic Forum; the Council on Foreign Relations; the private Club of Rome and so on. It is these people that control the world. In the recent WEF conflagration at Davos it was openly stated, by a banker, that their plans would bring a certain amount of societal destruction that would be difficult to manage.

The fact that national politicians are enacting the plans of the Elite shows who is in control. Their plans (such as net zero CO₂, getting rid of beef, airports and petrol cars) were never discussed with or voted for by the public; they are enforced from on high. When elected politicians ignore the will of the people and do the bidding of the Elite, then the country is ruled by an unelected hegemony.

In some cases the Elite directly infiltrate government. Klaus Schwab openly boasted that the WEF had not only controlled Canada's PM Justin Trudeau but had infiltrated most of his cabinet with WEF trained moles. Boris Johnson was opposed to lockdowns and followed the existing pandemic preparedness plan (help the vulnerable and leave society alone). Then he had a secret, un-minuted meeting with Bill Gates and with days Britain had gone into lockdown, following pre-existing plans laid out in Elite documents (e.g. the Rockefeller 'lock-step' document; the SPARS document), simulations (e.g. Event 201), and discussions (e.g. Bill Gates) and the Chinese model.

This shows who is in control. It is not elected politicians but a shadowy higher echelon of rich satanic psychopaths that want world domination. This is why governments are creating chaos; they are doing what they are told.

People think that the government is working for them; that ministers are all benevolent; that they serve the people; that problems are mistakes or incompetence. All this is false and demonstrably so. Experience should have told people that the government is at war with them. Examples:

- In a time of national crisis caused by the rising cost of living what did a Conservative Chancellor do? He raised taxes (which is contrary to Tory policy). He could have cut the Green subsidy on energy bills (25%) and the VAT (5%). He could have cut the VAT on petrol or reduced the duty. He could have not raised National Insurance. He could have cut income tax.
- When over a million people marched against a proposed war with Iraq what did the Labour PM do? He lied to Parliament in speech and writing; ignored the reports of UN weapons inspectors and took Britain into an illegal war that killed over a million innocent civilians.
- When Britain voted overwhelmingly to leave the EU what did the Tory PM do? She, and her civil service, did everything possible to keep Britain within the EU.
- When some of the top epidemiologists in the world, and the existing pandemic preparedness strategy, advised the government to just protect the vulnerable and keep society open during the Covid (fake) pandemic, what did the PM do? He locked Britain down three times, and introduced virtual martial law whereby two girls on a walk could be arrested.

In his letters to his son, JRR Tolkien – in a far more peaceful time than today – stated that he had become more anarchistic. He had always believed in small government but had come to believe that all governments only caused harm and no government was preferable. That this can work is proved by the fact that Belgium was without a government for two years not long ago; nothing much changed. The civil service keeps the nation going regarding administrative matters. Policy can easily be determined by referendums.

Governments cause active harm; especially when they are enacting the policies of evil people above them. Chaos results from bad government decisions, based on Elite objectives. The current chaos is planned.

The denigration of God and faith

Throughout history people have had to face terrible threats in society; even in relatively civilised Europe after the Reformation. Life for many was always close to the edge: in food security, wages, work, national security, energy, health, and poverty. Yet vulnerable people maintained a positive outlook and thrived because they had faith in God. They looked beyond their circumstances and trusted in a God that delivers from evil.

Central Europe was devastated by the Thirty Years War [1618–48], for example, which went backwards and forwards destroying villages and towns.²⁰ Yet the people at the heart of this conflict, mostly in Germany, were God-fearing (on both sides) and they kept raising themselves up after crises and functioned together as a religious community.

It was the faith in God of such people that ensured stability and social cohesion and an indefatigable resilience to survive. They worked together in faith for the common good; united in their belief in God and better things. Even if the worst were to happen to them, they had a firm belief in an afterlife which was full of blessing, peace and divine comfort for evermore. Thus they could face their crises with courage.

This faith has been destroyed in the West by a relentless attack on Biblical doctrine and church practice by the Elite under various guises. Today true faith has been restricted to a very few sound evangelical churches and disparate individuals dotted around the country. The vast majority of religious people, including supposed ‘Christians’, has been denuded of spiritual power and effectiveness.

This has denied ordinary vulnerable people the genuine comfort that comes with true faith in a just God. It has left them exposed to fears and insecurity with no spiritual foundation to support resilience.

In most cases, young people have no genuine spiritual foundation at all, being atheists or worse.²¹ Instead they follow various false ideologies and leave themselves open to all kinds of deception. So when the crunch comes and they face a major social crisis, they have no defences whatsoever and cannot face or survive the social upheavals that follow.

You cannot successfully survive the vicissitudes of life without a spiritual foundation. Atheists may deny this but they show their wounds in their character. They may survive in terms of living but they are rarely contented, peaceful, kind, selfless, doing good.

So the Elite, having wrecked the spiritual foundation of most people through ruining the churches, have created a population that has no foundations and has poor character that is easily susceptible to trauma from social crises. This is a satisfactory goal for the Elite; a population that is weak in integrity and moral virtue and easily controlled because it does not think and is easily led. It has no absolute truths to rely on and gets no comfort from a relationship with God.

²⁰ For a vivid illustration of this period see the Michael Caine film, ‘The Last Valley’ (1971).

²¹ What is worse than atheism? Occultism, Satanism, debauchery, fornication, total deception etc.

This means that the coming chaos and social upheaval will hit a population deprived of spiritual good and heavenly support. This is unlike any previous time in history. The fallout of this chaos will be unprecedented and horrific. There is going to be terrible suffering amongst the unbelievers in society.

The lockdowns were a precursor to this. What was the fallout? A massive rise in suicides; especially amongst the young. A huge rise in mental health problems; especially amongst the young. A rise in domestic abuse. A rise in alcoholism. A rise in drug abuse. A rise in homelessness. This was simply the result of social deprivation – being locked inside for a few months. What will vulnerable people do when there is no food or food is too expensive? When there is no electrical power to charge their mobile phones. When foreign holidays are terminated. When they cannot heat the house. When cars are forbidden. When meat is forbidden. When hospitals close down.

Truly survival from this chaos will be very difficult for those without faith in God.

Miscellaneous items in the week that I write this

This is to show the level of chaos and failed systems experienced in our daily lives.

Health issues

- It is impossible to see a GP in most areas.
- Over 6 million people on the NHS waiting lists.
- People waiting 20 or more hours in A and E.
- Cancer rates through the roof.
- Twice as many heart attacks as normal.
- Young men succumbing to myocarditis.
- Athletes dropping dead on the field in huge numbers.
- Ambulances not arriving.
- Doctors threatening to strike.
- Panic being spread about Monkeypox.
- Vaccine adverse events exploding.
- The WHO seeking to usurp national health sovereignty.

There is a crisis in health care.

Services

- Total chaos in British airports; tourists denied holidays.
- Police failing to investigate real crimes but hassle social media posters.
- Multiple police officers prosecuted for crimes, such as paedophilia or corruption.
- Civil service departments failing to even answer the phone and not performing their duties.
- Massive backlogs in getting a passport.
- Proposed rail strike.
- A year's backlog to get a driving test appointment.

There is a crisis in the performance of government departments.

Energy issues

- Energy bills through the roof that are unaffordable to pensioners. Further increases on the horizon.

- The highest petrol prices in history. It now costs over £100 to fill an average car.
 - Threatened power blackouts.
 - Diesel in short supply; some stations running out.
- There is an energy crisis.

Economic issues

- Excessive printing of money supply.
- Restrictions on commodities due to shortages.
- A cost of living crisis.
- Inflation at its highest levels for decades and still rising; heading for stagflation.
- Tax increases by a Conservative Chancellor (e.g. Corporation tax and National Insurance). The highest rate since the 1950s.
- Unions clamouring for increased wages and getting them.
- Shortage of labour in the market.
- Collapse of small businesses.
- Supply chain collapses.

The economy is in crisis.

Political issues

- The Prime Minister faced defenestration for committing civil crimes. This is the first time in history that this has occurred. He survived but is mortally wounded.
- The leader of the opposition is under investigation for alleged civil crimes.
- The government is pushing the Online Safety Bill that will trash free speech.
- Scotland is bankrupt, due to gross inefficiency, and seeking handouts from England.
- Tory voters in the shires saying they will not vote for, and cannot recognise, the Conservative Party as Conservative. Daniel Hannan (former MEP now Conservative Lord and friend of Boris) even said that the government of Gordon Brown would be preferable to that of Boris on policy issues.²²

Politics is in crisis.

There is a growing tsunami of problems enveloping the nation.

Specific goals of the elite

Energy

The Elite want energy prices to rise to create chaos and cause pain for customers.

One of the reasons for this is their goal to stop people driving personal cars and to hoard people into crowded urban spaces (Agenda 2030). One of the ways to progressively achieve this is to change behaviour – and behaviour is changed by rising petrol prices.

Now that petrol increases means that the average car costs over £100 to fill the tank, people are changing their behaviour. Formerly they would jump in the car and do anything they wanted in freedom, now they are actively questioning whether such a trip is worthwhile due to cost increases. This means that people are driving less and perhaps purchasing more locally or online.

Eventually the Elite want personal cars eradicated. Everything you need will be available in the hive urban area and online. This includes zoom doctor appointments and hospital consultations.

²² Planet Normal podcast, interview with Liam Halligan, 9 June 2022.

Food supply chain collapse

There is no doubt that the collapse of food supply chains will hurt the poorest in the Developing World more than anyone else. Experts have speculated that millions will die if staple foods are made very expensive and are in short supply.

This fits in with the eugenic plan of the Elite to kill poor people and eradicate them from the planet.

Balkanisation of Russia

The Elite have long sought for this. Zbigniew Brzezinski outlined this in his book, 'The Grand Chessboard: American primacy and its geostrategic imperatives'. (1997). This shows his outlook as anti-Russian. This was played out in the goading of the USSR into its war against Afghanistan and then funding/resourcing/training the Mujahideen (Mujahedin) rebels, which became Al-Qaeda. This futile war was a major contributing factor to the demise of the USSR.

I have explained before that the biggest headache to the Elite geopolitically is a unified, prosperous, well-led, economically sound, Christian Russia.²³ This is what Russia now is under Putin – which is why the Elite hate him.

Depopulation / eugenics

This has been long planned by the elite and some eugenic strategies had already been enacted in the 1930s, but these had to be curtailed due to public opinion and Nazi experiments. The Elite seek the eradication of certain races, such as Blacks, and the sterilisation of anyone deemed to be less useful to society (the poor, the disabled, the sick, the elderly, people of low IQ). [Notice how the Covid crisis took this cohort out. Not by a virus but by the appalling medical and care treatment given to such (e.g. Midazolam, Remdesivir, morphine, ventilators etc.).]

This goes back to the Malthusian ethics and the eugenic programmes held in high esteem by Elite figures. For decades they have openly expressed this. They seek a world population of only 500 million. This means getting rid of about 7 billion people, or roughly 93% of the world population.

The means of doing this will be:

- The adverse effects of the Covid vaccines. This has already, officially,²⁴ killed 77,000 people. Expert virologists and immunologists predict that millions will die in the next 3 years (e.g. Delores Cahill, Judy Mikovits, Mike Yeadon).
- Wars.
- Sterilisation.
- Food shortages.

Destroy society so that it requires new governance

This is done by creating division in society so that all the social norms break down and civil war erupts.

I have already explained how this is being achieved by sowing schism and hate.

²³ See, 'Why the West hates Russia'.

²⁴ The combined deaths in the VAERS (US), Yellow Card (UK), EudraVigilance (EU) and Daen (Aust.) reporting systems – which are a tiny fraction of the real figures due to under reporting.

Create fear to engender compliance and control

This is done through the government and the media focusing upon supposedly scary things, such as Covid, the planet burning up in months, Monkeypox, jihadis, mass shootings and so on. The nation must be kept in a constant state of fear.

The use of NLP and military behavioural psychology in this has been very obvious and profound.

Eradication of faith and especially Christianity

Multiple policies are achieving this slow destruction of faith in society. These include: brainwashing in schools and colleges; media swamping; persecution of Christians; hate speech crimes; censorship; public shaming and so on.

The termination of public worship during Covid was a major stepping stone in this and, despite being illegal,²⁵ it succeeded in getting worshippers to stop gathering together; many churches collapsed. The continuation of zoom sermons has resulted in many congregants staying at home and churches gradually decline further.

Conclusion

The chaos we are seeing around us exactly conforms to achieving the goals of the Elite.

Conclusion

So, all at the same time, we have: wars, economic collapse, famine, social unrest, controlled epidemics, an energy crisis, crazy net zero policies, and a moral crisis. I don't believe that there has been a time in history when all these crises occurred simultaneously.

Just two or three of these are enough to cause societal breakdown; all of them together leads us into uncharted territory. At best we are going to go through more than a year of deep austerity where many will die from starvation. At worst society could become feral.

There is the distinct possibility of a world war, which would distract from all the other problems; but this war could easily lead to tactical nuclear strikes that could wipe areas off the map.

At the very worst, mankind could be facing an extinction level event due to his gross sin and stupidity. This would fulfil prophecy where Jesus explained to us that his return was just before mankind destroyed the world.²⁶

If you thought that political leaders were working for your benefit and security, think again.

²⁵ It is contrary to the Constitution and Common Law.

²⁶ Matt 24:22, 'And unless those days were shortened ['lopped'], no flesh would be saved; but for the elect's sake those days will be shortened'. This initially applies to the siege of Jerusalem but by extension to the end of the world. Matt 24 conflates the destruction of Jerusalem in 70AD with the end.
